

Angell, Abrams Tackle Opponents, Inflation, Gifts

By WADE BUKHART

POUGHKEEPSIE

Nick Angell, the Democratic candidate for Congress from the 25th District, and Robert Abrams, Bronx Borough President and candidate for the Attorney General's office, held separate press conferences at Angell's campaign headquarters in Poughkeepsie Thursday, with kudos for each other, and brickbats for their major opponents.

Republican incumbent Hamilton Fish Jr. and Free Libertarian Sanford Cohen — Cohen's name wasn't mentioned Thursday, said, "As I'm sure you're aware, Mr. Fish prefers not to take positions."

He scored Fish for not having a program of his own on the economy, indicating Fish was only reacting to President Ford's proposals, and not very energetically at that. Angell proposed the reduction of

"special loopholes" like the oil depletion allowance, a "crack down" on overseas spending, a reduction of government spending by $10-15 billion for fiscal year 1975, and the scrapping of Ford's five per cent surcharge plan as raising too little and hitting the wrong people.

"Every time this country gets into a financial problem," said Angell, "it's the middle income group that gets hit."

Angell said the state of the economy was "clearly" the main issue in this year's campaign, and Abrams, seeking to unseat 18-year veteran Republican Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz even managed to tie the economy into the Attorney General's race.

After Angell asserted that Abrams would look out for the interests of consumers and middle income people, and Abrams said Angell would be "a voice of conscience and concern" in the halls of Congress, Abrams said, "In my opinion, the Attorney General should be the people's lawyer."

To Abrams, that means going before the Public Service Commission to oppose rate hikes by utilities, with their already "outrageous" bills, and bringing suit against other state agencies who do not enforce the laws to protect the consumer.

"He's the one who can have an impact on inflation," said Abrams of the attorney general's post.

Both of the candidates spoke about the recently disclosed gifts of Vice President-designate Nelson Rockefeller to a variety of friends and state officials when Rockefeller was governor. Abrams was more vehement about the gifts than Angell. Abrams said the Rockefeller gifts were an example of "cronyism" in the Republicans' governance of the state, and asserted, "I think people are disgusted with this kind of government."

Angell said, "It's a very disappointing situation for me." He said that he had always considered Rockefeller to be of "the highest personal integrity," and that he did not doubt "the genuineness of his personal motivation, but he said the gifts raised 'very serious problems with propriety, and possibly legality.'"

BELL ADDRESSES SAUGERTIES GOP — At Doggie's Place on Route 32 Thursday night, Assemblyman H. Clark Bell joined with town Republicans to examine the 1974 campaign. Bell States Apathy Is GOP Enemy

By TIM SCHUSTER

QUARRYVILLE Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (R-101) warned Saugerties Republicans Thursday night of the possibility of public apathy leading to a takeover of state Democrats.

Stating that the Republican Party represents a balanced cross-section of the state, Bell pointed to four powerful Democrats in the state who all hail from Brooklyn in a district chaired by Mead Esposito:

Hugh Carey for governor; Abraham Beame, New York mayor; Assembly minority leader Stanley Steingut; and soon-to-be appointed Senate minority leader Jeremiah Bloom.

The assemblyman told of 1965 when Democrats took control of the Assembly and Senate, and the Baker bill proposing New York City not pay taxes on its upstate property (such as the Ashokan Reservoir) was passed in both houses. Governor Rockefeller vetoed the bill.

It's human nature," said Bell, "The Democrats in New York are out to bring home the bacon," adding that most standing committees in both houses are chaired by city Democrats.

And while Bell said he did not believe that Watergate would have any appreciable effect on the local level elections, he did mention earlier that he was somewhat apprehensive that Governor Wilson may "drag everyone down" on the Republican tickets. And he suggested to the Saugerties GOP Club at Doggie's Place that they "hunt, pick, and choose" for the right candidate, attempting to arouse people from "apathy" he has seen around the state, which always has the potential to keep the vote small.

With Democrats fielding what Bell termed probably the "strongest ticket" in 16 years on the state level, he emphasized that the upstate-downstate situation be explained to area voters.

He also explained why he thought that 1974 was a "very difficult year" for incumbents, especially Republicans.

He called it the "IRA Year," not because of the Irish Republican Army, but because of Inflation, Recession, and Apathy.

"People are worried about just living," he stated, adding, "Government needs the attention of the people today more than ever." Bell praised the initiative to be taken by the Ford administration in forming a collective game plan with Western European nations to combat what he called "petrol power."

Concerning Saugerties, Bell noted that the town has become increasingly important politically because of its growth (18,000 persons in 1970) which he said will bring it almost on a par with the City of Kingston by 1980. And he pointed to the four county level candidates for office at present that hail from Saugerties.

He restated a few of the projects that have brought some $6.75 million in state funds into the county this year "by working with the house leadership," including $3.1 million for Route 28 reconstruction; $1.5 million for the Route 9W widening; and funds for Route 55 in Wawarsing.

Bell defended the monies spent to give Belleayre Ski Center its expanded snow making capacity, saying that last year it was open for skiing 118 days compared to an Eastern seaboard average of 25 days, bringing numerous tourists through the county to spend money in what he termed a "good clean industry."

In urging doorbell ringing for the '74 campaign, Bell said there were only 19 days until Nov. 5. "I do not see the enthusiasm and awareness we have had in the past," he lamented.

And he pointed to his climb in the powerful Assembly Ways and Means Committee with 25 members. Bell is number seven on the list this year, and said he expected to reach number five next year if reelected.

Hinchey Has 'A List'

SAUGERTIES Maurice Hinchey, Democratic candidate for the State Assembly in the 101st District, said today he is preparing a list of bills on which his opponent, Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, should have abstained from voting to avoid a possible conflict of interest situation.

"I feel I am being charitable in using the term 'possible conflict of interest,'" Hinchey said. "I think the general public would take a harsher view."

Hinchey said he intends to publish the list early enough to give Bell ample time to reply. "I think it is unfair to level charges against one's opponent in the closing hours of a campaign. I would not do that to Mr. Bell and I would expect the same courtesy of him."

Hinchey added: "There is sufficient documentation of Assemblyman Bell's outside interests to target pretty accurately those areas where a conflict of interest might exist. As a partner in the law firm of St. John, Ronder and Bell, with important banking, insurance, and real estate clients, Bell's sponsorship and vote on insurance and banking bills and his membership on the Banking Committee open up many questions.

The fact that his law partner, Howard St. John is president of Ulster County Savings Bank only compounds the problem.

"Similarly, his sponsorship of certain bills concerning open lands must be considered with reference to his substantial holdings in specific real estate ventures. And, of course, it also must be remembered that he is a director of the Colonial Cooperative Insurance Company."

Hinchey stressed that there was nothing inherently wrong with Bell's participation in such ventures. "The harm would occur if Bell allowed his private interest in these ventures to influence the way he voted on particular bills in the Assembly," he said.

Hinchey said he would be ready with a detailed but by no means exhaustive list some time next week.

Sen. Mason Endorses Conservative

NEW YORK CITY for U.S. Senator from New York State Senator Edwyn E. York, Mason (R-Hobart), himself a candidate for reelection, has endorsed Barbara Keating, the Conservative Party candidate.

Clark Mason is opposed in his campaign for reelection by he commented, "Her two opponents, Senator Javits and Ramsey Clark, urge billions of dollars in worthless federal spending. Barbara Keating not only lead to a welfare state, but cause inflation by throwing the federal budget out of balance. I am convinced that the only candidate who knows how to roll back inflation is Barbara Keating."

Ms. Keating's stand on fiscal policies, said Mason, prompted his endorsement. "Barbara Keating is the only candidate who speaks for the taxpayer's majority in New York State,"

And, Mason added that Clark's trip to Hanoi during the Vietnam War and Javits' recent trip to Cuba contributed to his decision to endorse Ms. Keating.

Nixon May Testify in Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A hearing on a companion request for a temporary injunction was scheduled for Monday morning before U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey. But they also have filed suit against the Ford administration, seeking to block any release of Nixon administration tapes and documents except those under subpoena. They also want to permit Nixon to review all materials subpoenaed in the future.

A hearing on a companion request for a temporary injunction was scheduled for Monday morning before U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey. But Sirica made it clear at a brief hearing that he wants to see Nixon on the stand rather than be forced to settle for his testimony in writing. "It would be helpful to the defendants and the government if he progresses to the point where it would not injure his health for him to appear here," Sirica said. Nixon is an "indispensable witness" in his behalf, rejected suggestions from Nixon attorney Herbert J. Miller Jr. that questions simply be sent to Nixon to answer in writing. "The law is that Mr. Nixon must be here in person if he has relevant information and if he is able to appear," said Assistant Special Prosecutor James F. Neal. Nixon suffers from chronic phlebitis — a painful vein inflammation — that has caused swelling and clotting in his left leg.

Congressmen Wind It Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A week overdue, Congress finally has gone home to face the voters. When the Senate and House gather again, Nov. 18, it will be for a post-election session that promises to run into January. Congress recessed Thursday after besting President Ford in a week-long brawl over U.S. military aid to Turkey. Despite the most strenuous

Move to Override a New Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Democrats plan to press Congress to override President Ford's veto of what he brands an "unconstitutional and unworkable" bill to amend the Freedom of Information Act. The bill, overturning a 1973 Supreme Court decision in a secrecy-stamping case and closing what the measure's authors call major loopholes in the law, could adversely affect intelligence secrets and diplomatic relations, Ford said as he vetoed it Thursday. "The President is demonstrating an arrogance that would be believable if a man holding a mandate from the people occupied the office of the presidency. But it is unbelievable, almost incredible, arrogance for a man whose only mandate came from a single congressional district," said Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who headed an 11-year drive for the Freedom of Information Act enacted in 1967. The Supreme Court decided that a president could classify documents basically free of judicial review. This bill would give federal courts power to see if documents were properly classified. Ford argued that this would mean courts would be allowed to make what amounts to "the initial classification decision in sensitive and complex areas where they have no expertise."

Longest Economic Slump Since '60

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The quarter of 1974 because of Commerce Department says inflation is increasing at a rate of 11.5 per cent and the nation's output of goods and services is in its longest decline in 14 years. In a statement Thursday, the department said the Gross National Product, the sum of goods and services produced in the nation, declined 2.9 per cent in real terms for the third quarter of 1974 because of inflation. This plus a drop of 7 per cent in the first quarter and 1.6 per cent in the second quarter constituted the longest economic slump since 1960. The figures announced added to the debate on whether the country is in a recession. Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said in the third quarter figures released Thursday, the Commerce Department said the

PERB Dismisses Civil Service Charges Against County

Improper labor practice charges filed against the County of Ulster by the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA) have been dismissed by the Public Employment Relations Board (PERB).

As a result, PERB has, in effect, denied CSEA's contention that the equity adjustment for 1974 be negotiated separately from the 1975 contract.

Last May, CSEA requested that the county approved a $1.188 salary increase retroactive to Jan. 1. It was the local unit's intention to then negotiate its 1975 contract from that point.

The county, however, felt differently. It declined to grant the $1.188, and suggested that the retroactive pay hike be discussed in the negotiations for the 1975 contract.

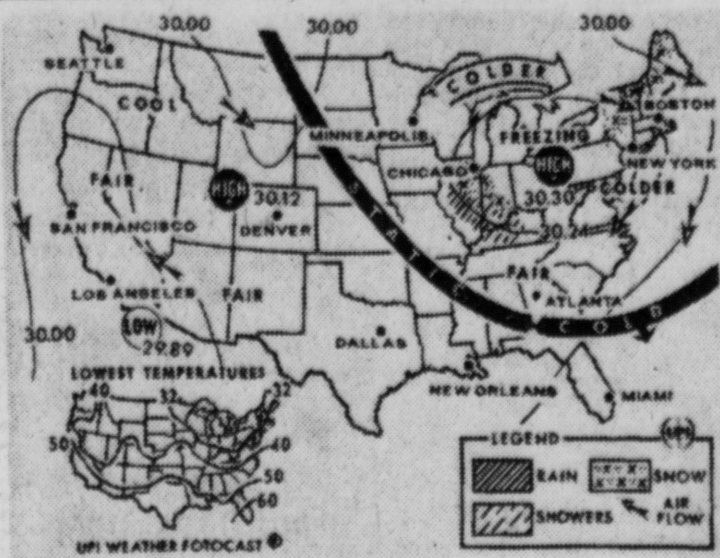

It was at that point (June) that CSEA filed an improper practice charge against the county. PERB conducted a hearing July 23 at the Ulster County Office Building in Kingston.

Mrs. Judy Murray, acting president of the local CSEA unit, said today that the PERB decision will not affect the items that are to be negotiated for the 1975 contract. And, while it was CSEA's contention that the county acted illegally when it increased the current contract negotiations minimum salary of county employees from $3,800 to $5,000 working in different job classifications to be paid at the same salary level. She pointed out that CSEA has conducted a "reclassification study" that recommends ways to rectify the inequities, and indicated that it, too, would probably be a part of the current 1975 negotiations.

PERB's ruling was announced Thursday, but neither side has yet received a copy of that ruling.

Manpower would come from various local organizations such as churches, youth groups, senior citizens, and the Community Action Local Advisory Board, Brown said. Expertise and guidance would be furnished by the Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H, and the down.

Brown said that with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, increases in prices for fertilizers and other materials this year's request would be some $658.11 for a 100-by-100 foot of land was turned that approval would be given this time after the President's call for such projects and said that work would begin in the spring of 1975 if the grant is approved.

City, Local Groups Seeking Downtown Grant

KINGSTON The Rondout Advisory Board, SCORE, the City of Kingston and 4-H Clubs will submit a joint request for a grant to support an urban gardening project in downtown Kingston.

Noting that President Ford had recommended such projects in a recent speech, Edward Brown, community organizer for the Office of the Rondout Community Action Center, said the proposal was made to the Unique New York Foundation, 250 W. 57th Street, New York City, for a grant to support a garden plot.

He noted that the city has many vacant lots in the downtown area that could be used for a community gardening project, and that Mayor Francis R. Koenig had agreed to make space available for the gardens if the grant is received.

The free clinic is primarily intended for persons over 35 years of age, or those whose family has a history of glaucoma. The eye test takes less than four minutes and is completely painless. It symptoms of glaucoma are found, the patient will be referred to an eye specialist. A diabetes test will also be offered at the clinic because it is a disease which may cause changes in the eye which can affect vision either temporarily or permanently. Early detection and persistent control of diabetes may prevent serious eye complications.

The amblyopia, or lazy eye, screening program is intended for pre-school children between three and five years of age. Unless symptoms are discovered before age six, the lazy eye will probably never focus as it should.

The volunteers, Mrs. Rebecca Bogatta, Mrs. Rose Polican and Mrs. Barbara McClurg will conduct the pre-school amblyopia screening program. The clinic will be sponsored by the Ulster County Health Department.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 18, 1974

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — New secret documents tell of 18 busy world airports which are open to Arab terrorist attack because of lax security or their location in guerrilla-infested areas.

The new survey by the Federal Aviation Administration supercedes one this summer turned up by Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., a House air safety expert. When we printed the names of the eight "most vulnerable" airports then, we were criticized for breaking the seal of secrecy on classified FAA documents.

But we reasoned that travelers had a right to that information, and now the new survey seems to bear us out. The current FAA study shows that London, which we listed as a security horror story, is now much improved. New Delhi and Bangkok have been dropped from the earlier list.

In any case, according to U.S. intelligence reports, the Fedayeen already know which airports are easy marks.

The new study, classified "For Official Use Only," names the 18 "High Risk Foreign Airports" as Rome, Frankfurt, Amsterdam, Geneva, Zurich, Madrid, Beirut, Athens, Tel Aviv, Paris, Munich, London, Istanbul, Vienna, Brussels, Barcelona, Copenhagen and Lisbon.

Terrorists have struck most frequently, the documents say, at Munich where 11 incidents have occurred. The FAA probes cite West Germany's "close Israeli ties" as one reason for the attacks. Second, with five episodes, is Rome. Athens and Beirut have had four each and Frankfurt and Amsterdam have had three.

Beirut and Tel Aviv are praised by the FAA for doing their best, but they are classified "High Risk" because of their location in the volatile Middle East. London has improved mightily, but is still listed because of the large number of flights, particularly departures bound for the United States.

Zurich and Geneva are branded as risks for an intriguing reason. Arab terrorists, according to the FAA's intelligence, are angry over Switzerland's willingness to allow a Geneva peace conference on the Middle East.

"Attacks at this time would be aimed at disrupting peace conference and as punishment of Swiss for allowing the conference," the FAA study says.

BIRCH BARK: President Ford warmly embraced C.R. Lewis, a prominent John Birch Society member, when he came to Washington recently.

Lewis is running for the Senate in Alaska on the Republican ticket, so Ford posed with Lewis for the traditional hand-shaking scene for campaign use. The President even threw in an extra picture of them strolling together and a "Dear C.R." letter telling Lewis: "I am looking forward to working with you in the Senate."

The John Birch Society showed its appreciation later by ripping Ford apart in its "The Review of the News," which featured a full-page ad for Lewis' contracting firm.

"One cannot escape the feeling," declared the Birch publication, "that Gerald Ford is under a discipline and serving a radical cause."

"When the script calls for declaring that American youth should prepare to emulate the example of young slaves in the concentration camp that is Red China, Gerald Ford follows the script."

In sum, said the article, the President is a "hustler for Chairman Mao."

FOOTNOTE: The White House declined comment on the endorsement of the John Birch candidate. But at the GOP campaign committee, a spokesman told us the candidate's philosophy weighs far less than "whether he can win."

"WATCH ON WASTE: The Air Force shipped 350 personnel officers across the nation to San Antonio for a conference on management efficiency. The object was to save money for the taxpayers. Sources familiar with such conferences suggest, on the contrary, that it cost the taxpayers more than will be saved.

Just the per diem bills turned in by the 350 conferees added up to $52,000. An Air Force spokesman told us: "There is no way to figure travel costs."

WASHINGTON WHIRL: In a stern memo to his staff, Interior Secretary Rogers Morton told them their junketing has reached "unreasonable proportions." Every other prospect for Kissinger's negotiating skills seems blocked. Both Syria and Israel are on a virtual war footing on the Golan Heights; the complexities of negotiating anything at all on the West Bank seem insurmountable.

If Kissinger cannot find his escape route on the relatively uncomplicated Sinai peninsula, the one piece of Israeli-occupied territory where Israel seems willing to negotiate further withdrawals, the ensuing deadlock could quickly become incendiary. There is no informed Mideast expert not worried that the next war between Israel and the Arabs could imperil not only the Middle East but the whole world.

We reported recently that Army recruiters had been signing up misfits and even criminals in their eagerness to reach recruiting goals. Army Secretary Howard Callaway has now written us pleading: "We are making a sincere attempt to eliminate all irregularities from Army recruiting. I hope the unfortunate practices used in the past by a few Army recruiters will not detract from the overall outstanding success of our recruiting efforts."

The Marine Corps recruiting slogan, "The Marines Are Looking for a Few Good Men," has irritated a lot of women. A group calling themselves the Federally Employed Women has accused the leathernecks of discriminating against women in their recruitment program.

Rabbit Out of His Hat

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A complex, shaky deal to avoid deadlock in Henry Kissinger's torturous Arab-Israeli mediation has now been given tentative approval by Arab leaders not usually regarded as among this country's best friends in the Middle East.

If it works, the Secretary of State may be able to pull another rabbit out of his hat: a second-stage Israeli withdrawal from the Egyptian Sinai peninsula.

That's what Israeli Prime Minister Itzhak Rabin has been promoting for months. Rabin's political perch as prime minister is too precarious to risk negotiations on withdrawal from the Israeli-occupied Palestinian West Bank of the Jordan River. That issue is mired in quicksand.

It's what Egyptian President Anwar Sadat also wants, but not at the cost of losing his political base at home for "selling out" the Palestinians while promoting the special cause of Egypt.

Just such charges of "sellout" would be made against Sadat if he agreed to a second-stage Israeli withdrawal from Sinai without some political gain for the Palestinians on the West Bank. With Israel rigid against any dealings of any kind with the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), headed by Yasser Arafat, other Arab leaders are now saying privately that the political gain needed for the PLO could come at the United Nations in New York, not on the West Bank of the Jordan River.

What gives this special importance to American policymakers is the fact that both Kuwait and Syria are among the Arab states quietly supporting this complicated formula. When the PLO is given a forum at the UN to present its controversial case for representing the West Bank in Israel peace talks, that could be the essential precondition for Egypt to negotiate another Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai.

Drawing the UN into the torrid Palestinian political issue, however, raises serious problems for Israel, which professes to regard the PLO and Arafat simply as terrorists and murderers representing not the Palestinian people but other terrorists and murderers.

Addressing the UN on Oct. 3, Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon attacked the whole idea of allowing the PLO to argue its case before the General Assembly. Arab insistence on putting the Palestinian issue on the agenda "is designed above all to destroy the prospects of the political effort" toward some West Bank settlement, Allon said. But his argument seems shaky because Israel has yet to define, in anything close to specific terms, the West Bank political settlement it is being pressed to agree to with King Hussein of Jordan.

Israel seized the West Bank from Jordan in the 1967 six-day war. It far prefers dealing with Hussein than Arafat — if it is forced to deal.

As the only way to keep Kissinger's mediation afloat, the U.S. did not fight against, a UN debate on the Palestinian issue, with the PLO a central participant.

Indeed, some high-placed diplomats here assert positively that private contacts between emissaries for the U.S. and Arafat's PLO have taken place on several occasions. Just before leaving on another round of his Mideast shuttle diplomacy last week, Kissinger ruled out any chance that he himself would meet Arafat or any other PLO leader. But there are indications that the U.S. wants to keep all avenues open, including the PLO option, in Kissinger's increasingly desperate efforts to keep the peace talks going.

With Syria and Kuwait privately in favor of another Sinai negotiation between Egypt and Israel, providing the PLO gets a forum in the UN, a second-stage Israeli withdrawal might not be impossible for Kissinger to negotiate. That, of course, would not happen on this trip. Rather, Kissinger would be laying the groundwork for it to happen in the next few months.

Every other prospect for Kissinger's negotiating skills seems blocked. Both Syria and Israel are on a virtual war footing on the Golan Heights; the complexities of negotiating anything at all on the West Bank seem insurmountable.

If Kissinger cannot find his escape route on the relatively uncomplicated Sinai peninsula, the one piece of Israeli-occupied territory where Israel seems willing to negotiate further withdrawals, the ensuing deadlock could quickly become incendiary. There is no informed Mideast expert not worried that the next war between Israel and the Arabs could imperil not only the Middle East but the whole world.

The Story Behind the Story

Berry's World

Writing newspaper columns and writing books are bigamous marriages. The author of good conscience gives his best to each, but his best is never good enough. He glances at what is published and moans: "Give me one more shot at that and I'll make it sing."

He doesn't get a second chance. He moves on to the next story, the next book. Nonfiction is the most difficult art form because the artist becomes the prisoner of his facts. He dares not bend truth.

A few weeks ago, my 18th book was published by William Morrow & Co. It is called "FDR's Last Year" and my only excuse for mentioning it is because I think the story behind the story may never be told.

I have been working on it since June, 1971. Assuming that all authors have a flair for a well-known phrase, the difference between the winners and the losers is research: the digging of facts. I dig deeply. It may be a legacy from my father's police work that I enjoy the lengthy and often repetitious interviews, the wading in dusty libraries, going to places he went and trying to see them as he saw them.

In the case of Roosevelt, the research was a race with death. There is a handful of the FDR inner circle alive and old. He died in 1945, and I had to find which ones were left and who was willing to talk.

The beautiful colleen, Grace Tully, is snow-haired and partly blind. The intellectual wizard, Ben V. Cohen, sits alone in an apartment lined with books and silently tosses a rubber bone to a wire-haired terrier. Leo Crowley, boss of Lend-Lease, died in Madison, Wisconsin, as I prepared to fly to his side.

Mike Reilly, head of the White House detail of the Secret Service, didn't want to talk to me. Then he changed for a well-known phrase, the difference between the winners and the losers is research: the digging of facts. I dig deeply. It may be a legacy from my father's

I was running, running, running. The young Navy cardiologist, Howard Bruenn, who learned that the President had irreversible heart disease, granted me three medical sessions and convinced me that FDR never asked, "How am I doing, Doc?"

Admiral Ross McIntire, who engineered the conspiracy of silence in the White House, was dead. Lucy Mercer Rutherford, the true love of the President for 30 years, was gone. Her daughter Barbara would not discuss the love which so many had cheapened as an "affair."

The unknown Lieut. William Rigdon, discovered by accident retired in Bethesda, was the President's "traveling secretary." I did not realize that FDR did not take the attractive young Dorothy Brady or Grace Tully with him.

Rigdon, aging, failing sight, was a perfectionist. He made shorthand notes, not only of the secret meetings and messages between Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt, but he made his own notes of everything the President said and did. He even noted fatigue, and rubdowns by Lieut. Cindr. George Fox.

Anna Roosevelt, her father's favorite, was chosen to go to Yalta over objections from Mrs. Roosevelt. His love for "Sis" was as deep and unmovable as the bottom of a glacier. It was she who explained the unplatonic relationship between her Dad and Lucy. Also why.

Thus, what was to have been my book became the sum of candid recollections by others. The race with time paid off. Professor Eric Goldman of Princeton read it and called me a "new Jim Bishop" — his error. The San Francisco Examiner wrote: "Buy it. Read it. Treasure it."

Bob Considine, who should be discounted because he is an old friend, wrote "a magnificent account of a magnificent man." Will Durant, premier historian, said: "A thorough and scholarly job." Time Magazine yanked it from the book section and gave it five columns under "History."

James A. Farley, FDR's political mentor, wrote: "Jim Bishop has revealed many things about a lonely, dying man that were new to me

So, you inquire, why do you boast? I do not. I am humbled by kind words because, no matter how hard the writer strives, he has no idea of what the public will approve and what people will ignore.

The hardest to please are those closest to the President. Dorothy Brady, who saw him every day, read "FDR's Last Year" and penned a note which I shall cherish:

"I've waited a long time for a person like you to write the truth about a great man. Your handling of Mrs. Rutherford was exquisitely delicate. If, someday, someone writes a book about you, I hope they do it as conscientiously as this new masterpiece."

Forget the gracious words of critics. When I feel depressed, I will reread the letter from Roosevelt's secretary...

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports of a large inflow of petrodollars into short-term U.S. securities and a prime rate cut by two major banks boosted stock prices higher in early trading today.

The Dow Jones industrial average was up almost one point and advances broadly led declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Helping the market was First National City Bank's early announcements of a 1/4 percentage point reduction in their minimum corporate borrowing fee to 1 1/4 per cent. It was the third consecutive weekly decline in the key rate.

And the Federal Reserve system reported heavy purchases of short-term securities, apparently by oil-producers, totaling as much as $729 million Thursday.

Active stocks in early trading included Joy Manufacturing, up 1/2 to 33, Louisiana Land and Exploration, ahead 1/2 to 24 and Citicorp, parent company of First National City Banks, up 1/2 to 28. Houston Light & Power was unchanged at 26 1/2, and Pittston was unchanged at 31 1/2.

Waldheim's Assessment: World Outlook Better

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim says the political climate of the world is better now than it has been for two decades, despite serious regional conflicts and economic problems.

Waldheim told visiting journalists from the World Press Institute that the improved atmosphere largely is due to cooperation between the world's big powers, a policy he feels will continue.

"The big powers know very well that a new worldwide confrontation would be detrimental to all of them," he said. "This gives me the impression that we won't have worldwide confrontation in the next year or the near future.

"This will reflect positively on the world situation and on the future of the great majority of small and medium-sized countries."

Waldheim said that one regional problem that persists is in the Middle East. He said the General Assembly's decision Monday to hear the Palestine Liberation Organization reflects recognition of the PLO's role in efforts to solve the Middle East problem.

On Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's recent trip to the area and related efforts there by the United Nations, Waldheim said he hopes the efforts would bring about renewed Geneva peace talks to work out a solution.

The secretary-general warned, however, against over-optimism. He said, "Many more efforts and a lot of good will on all sides" will be needed to produce an agreement.

"I can only hope we will be able to achieve a breakthrough leading to lasting peace in the area. . . . Otherwise, I feel the situation will be critical again next year," Waldheim said.

In other disputed areas, Waldheim noted that the rival sides on Cyprus are meeting generally once a week to iron out their problems.

But he regretted that fighting has continued in South Vietnam despite the cease-fire signed in Paris more than 20 months ago.

Two Hunters Found Dead Near Tupper

TUPPER LAKE, N.Y. (UPI) — State police said today they found two men dead and three unconscious, apparently overcome by propane gas fumes, in

Thursday night near this Franklin County village. The camp at Eagle Lake in Piercefield was owned by Howard Flynn, 71, of North Syracuse, one of the dead. The other dead man was not immediately identified.

Taken to Mercy Hospital here were Walter Beach, 64, of Syracuse, Luther Erardi, 63, of North Syracuse and Russell Eddy, 62, of Manlius. All were reported in critical condition.

Troopers said they received a call about 11 p.m. from Syracuse, asking them to check the camp because the men had not returned home as scheduled earlier in the evening from a hunting trip. Troopers said the camp refrigerator, operated by propane gas, had gone out, and the camp was filled with the odor of the gas.

It was believed the refrigerator went out after the five men went to bed Wednesday night.

Prime Interest Rate Reduced by Two Banks

NEW YORK (AP) — First National City Bank of New York, the nation's second largest commercial bank, and Chemical Bank, the seventh largest, today announced further reductions in their prime interest rates, to 11.25 per cent from 11.5 per cent, effective Monday.

The rate reduction follows continued declines this week in key short-term money rates that banks use as a basis to determine the prime rate.

The prime is the interest banks charge their biggest and most creditworthy corporate customers. Changes in the rate often signal changes in business and personal loans, although there is no direct relationship.

Today's reduction in the prime was the third consecutive weekly drop posted by the banks.

New Paltz AAUW Will Study Media

The New Paltz Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. in the Joe Deyo Room of the Inter-County Savings Bank.

On that evening, members in attendance will "Meet the Press". Coach House Holds Membership Meet

The regular monthly meeting of Coach House Players was held recently at the Coach House on 12 Augusta Street with President Chris Beall presiding.

Members were asked to vote on three amendments to their by-laws.

Discussion was centered on production plans for the current show, "Bells Are Ringing," on recruitment of new members, and change of date of the annual Christmas Party to December 14th. After the meeting refreshments were served with Mrs. Dorothy Scholl serving as chairman of the refreshment committee. The evening's program was further augmented by film clips shown through the courtesy of William LaVoie and Romeo Muller.

Good Pork Buy

Pork blade steaks are a less familiar cut and a thrifty buy. Most can be identified by a portion of the flat blade bone which often resembles the number seven. Some, however, are boneless. Often prepared by braising, these steaks are also delicious when broiled. Select steaks cut one-half to three-fourths inch thick and place five or more inches from heat. To keep the steaks juicy and flavorful, broil at a low to moderate temperature and turn occasionally. They can be brushed with barbecue sauce or glaze while broiling. These versatile, meaty steaks are popular with thrifty gourmet cooks who recognize a flavor bargain. They can be cut in strips or pieces and braised to savory tenderness in a spicy sauce for an appetizing dish that appeals to discriminating taste buds.

Wants No Wheels At Her Wedding

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon. My fiancé's favorite brother, who was asked to be our best man, has just undergone his third operation. He will be out of the hospital in time for our wedding, but he'll be in a wheelchair for several months.

My fiancé insists that his brother be in the wedding party, wheelchair or no wheelchair.

Abby, there will be over 500 people at the wedding and reception. I'm having a professional photographer take pictures of the whole thing — even movies — and I just know that wheelchair will ruin everything. Imagine, the best man going down the aisle in a wheelchair! I'm afraid people will laugh.

Dear Abby

Please don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my future brother-in-law and am sorry for what he's had to go through, but I think someone else should take his place as best man. Am I wrong for wanting everything to be perfect?

PHOENIX BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: If by "perfect" you mean appearances over the feelings of your fiancé and his favorite brother, you are indeed wrong.

A best man in a wheelchair (or for that matter, ANY member of the wedding in a wheelchair) is not unique in the annals of wedding ceremonies. And it's not apt to be laughed at.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 13-year-old girl. I'm writing this for my brother (he's 12) and myself because we both have the same problem. It's our father.

He refuses to take a vacation. Dad says he can't spare the time. He's in the insurance business and he makes a good living, but what good is the money if he works himself to death? Mom is a housewife. We live in a nice home in the suburbs, have two cars, nice clothes and my brother and I go to a good camp.

Mom and Dad haven't had a vacation together since they've been married. Other families take a vacation every year. All our dad knows is work. Is there some way we can get him to take a vacation?

We're not asking for a trip ourselves. We'd be happy if he took Mom and went someplace for a rest. Can you solve our problem?

MILWAUKEE KIDS
DEAR KIDS: You might tell Dad that because you love him you want him to live a long time, so he'd better take care of his health. Being in the insurance business he knows that all work and no play may make a lot of jack, but it also makes Jack a poor insurance risk.

DEAR ABBY: Sixteen years ago I read a letter in your column urging readers to remove the doors from stored and abandoned iceboxes and refrigerators so children couldn't crawl into them and become accidentally trapped. (You called them "potential coffins.")

I remembered that letter so vividly because the year before I had lost a precious four-year-old grandson in such a senseless accident. Following his death, his mother (my daughter-in-law) had psychiatric treatment for a year to overcome her recurring nightmares and feelings of guilt.

I read the same warning in your column three more times over the years.

Yesterday I read a small item in our local newspaper. A seven-year-old girl, who had been missing for 12 hours, was found dead in an abandoned icebox stored in the basement of a playmate's home. During a game of hide and seek, the child had crawled into the icebox, was trapped, and eventually died of suffocation.

Abby, will you please warn

Sweet Adelines to Convene

Sweet Adelines from all over the United States, Canada, Panama Canal Zone, and England will be traveling to Milwaukee, Wisc. for their International Convention-Competition to be held from October 22 to October 26.

The Chapters in Sweet Adelines, Inc. are divided into 16 Regions throughout the United States. Each Region holds a Regional Convention and Competition once a year to choose their Regional Champion Chorus and Quartet. Those winners are then entered in the International Convention and Competition to compete for the International title. Each year the Competition is held in a different part of the country. Last year's competition, held in Washington, D. C., was the first year that choruses could compete; previously the International Competition was only for quartets.

In addition to the competition, the installation of the new International Board of Directors is held. There are also various Board meetings.

Region 1, comprising New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Southeastern Canada, held its Regional Competition in March, 1974 in New York City. The winning chorus from this competition, representing the Region at the International Competition, is the Marlboro Chapter from Massachusetts, and the winning quartet is the "Golden Touch" from Kingston, Ontario.

Miss Evelyn Roberts, Miss Shirley Plew, and Miss Sherry Every will be attending the International Competition from Kingston's Colonial City Chapter.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
© 1974 The Emily Post Institute, Inc.
Distributed by the Chicago Tribune-
N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

Dear Mrs. Post: About one month ago, some members of the family received invitations to the wedding of my first cousin once removed. We didn't receive one, but I really wasn't upset since we never hear from them, even at Christmas time. Then yesterday an invitation came with my maiden name on it (I've been married 30 years), the wrong address and city (we've lived in the same home for 25 years). In addition to this, my single daughter was not included. I do not intend to make the trip from Chicago to New York with this short notice, but my problem is this. My husband and daughter feel they have been insulted. I don't even have time to send the R.S.V.P. card. They also feel that we needn't send a gift. They claim that bride is only seeking a gift and not really interested in our sharing her happiness.

If this were to happen to you, how would you feel and in what way would you respond, if any?

Mrs. P. J.
Dear Mrs. J.: I would have to agree with your husband and daughter. The fact that the invitation arrived so late is excusable — it could have been an oversight — but the fact that they had both your name and address wrong is not.

You are under no obligation to send a gift. But two wrongs don't make a right, and you should answer the invitation. If you had time to write this letter to me, you certainly have time to put an "x" (or whatever is required) on the response card and drop it in the mail.

Dr. that and consider the matter closed.
Whom do you tip? When and how much? You will find the answers to these questions in my booklet, "The Etiquette of Tipping." To get a copy, send 50 cents in coins to cover booklet and mailing expenses to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper.

Dear Folks:
I finally got the original recipe for shell macaroni and cheese from one of my favorite chain of restaurants in the United States.

Use the cheapest cheese you can buy in the big rectangular box (which they tell you to never use in recipes that call for cheese). Cube the cheese (cut in squares) and add canned evaporated milk (undiluted), and a dash of Worcestershire sauce. (A dash means a couple of blips; in other words, let the bottle go gurgly, gurgly and you have it — perfect!)
Then melt this, stirring constantly, over a low simmering burner. Make sure you stir in a figure eight motion and use a wooden spoon.

The secret is in pouring the cooked, drained macaroni into the same pot in which you melted the cheese — this way you save having to wash an extra dirty pot.

This may be served immediately or baked in the oven (350 degrees) for 20 minutes or so.

When we tested this little gem dilly, we added pimiento for color and cubed leftover ham. Now that really gives you something to chomp your teeth into! All you need to complete the meal is a salad. So easy and yet — magnifique!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I used to throw my boy's tennis shoes away when the rubber separated around the canvas but no more.

I found that if you thread a needle with fishing line, then double it and tie a knot, you can sew along the canvas and some of the rubber. It will hold for many more weeks for playing.

Dear Heloise:
When someone has painting to do in their home, adding a little vanilla to the paint will prevent any "painty" smell.

Audrey Woodard Doty

Dear Heloise:
There's one place in my house that has never been a pretty place. That's under the kitchen sink where I keep soap, cleanser, waxes, etc.

Last night I picked up some adhesive-backed paper on sale and then wondered what to do with it.

I thought of that ugly cabinet and lined the sides and bottom with flowered adhesive-backed paper. Now it's a pleasure to get something out to clean with.

It's prettier, cheaper and easier than painting it.
Mrs. Georgia Deaton

Dear Heloise:

Our baby just had his first birthday recently. When I took the first film of him, I thought that I wouldn't forget how old he was at the time the pictures were taken. But by the time I had them developed I had certainly forgotten.

I've solved this problem since by keeping a small wire bound notebook and numbering one to 12 or 20, however many roll film I have at present and date each one when I take pictures.

Then when I get the film developed I date the back of each picture and place the dated sheet with the negatives for future reprints.

Janice Randolph

Dear Heloise:
I have a labor-saving suggestion for you. Ever since I have used frozen orange juice, I have struggled crushing and stirring the juice with a tablespoon, often disastrously.

Not too long ago, I happened to think of using a round metal potato masher. Now it takes just a few seconds and I marvel at the time saved.

Chitterling Chatter

Chitterlings, a favorite food of the "Old South," may gain new status in other areas of the country as a result of a recent U.S.D.A. regulation which permits their entry in interstate commerce for sale in retail food stores. According to the regulation, chitterlings must be prepared from the large intestines of hogs or calves, and must meet strict wholesomeness and safety standards. They are not permitted in already-established commercial meat products, but may be used for chitterling pie or similar products if clearly labeled and sold in containers of not more than three pounds.

CCUC: Blackout For State

KERHONKSON

The Executive Committee of Concerned Consumers of Ulster County has called for a state-wide blackout on Nov. 4 from 8 to 10 p.m.

Mrs. Belle Sundeen, CCUC president, said "in all the government discussions of inflation, the least consideration is given to the overwhelming burden carried by the average low and middle income workers and to those senior citizens who are on low fixed incomes."

In 1974, she said, Central Hudson alone, "with the blessing of the Public Service Commission, has milked its customers of over $20 million in fuel adjustment costs. Now the PSC examiner, who presided at the public hearings this spring, has recommended what will amount to a 20 per cent rate increase in electricity to the average consumer. Where is the equitable sharing of the burden of inflation?"

"The Concerned Consumers call upon our Governor and legislators to follow the lead of Connecticut. We need an immediate moratorium on electric rates and a halt to the rip-off of fuel adjustments."

"We urge all Central Hudson customers to shut off their lights the night before election, Nov. 4, from 8 to 10 p.m., as a protest against unbearable electric costs and a demand for responsible action on the part of our representatives."

Alexander Reelected

KINGSTON

Kingston realtor Brendon Alexander was reelected chairman of the Ulster County Traffic Safety Board for 1974-75 at the board's recent meeting. Alexander, a former vice chairman, will be serving his second term as chairman.

Reelected to the vice chairman's post was David Goble of Saugerties, a Saugerties village justice and driver education instructor at Saugerties High School. Goble has served on the board since it was organized and will be serving his second term as vice chairman.

Robert Stinemire, also a Saugerties resident, was reelected secretary. He is supervisor of driver education for the Kingston City School Consolidated and has served as secretary since the Traffic Safety Board was organized in 1972.

The board recently received approval for funds for a communications system involving Benedictine Hospital, Kingston Hospital and various ambulance services in the county so that severely ill patients can be monitored and treatment recommended for them before they reach the hospital.

Other members of the Traffic Safety Board include William Trapnell of Ellenville, Herbert Wells of Shokan, John F. Taylor of New Paltz, Charles F. Ayasse of High Falls, George D. Kakoullis of Kingston, John T. Tiano of Saugerties, John W. McFadden of Shokan and Joseph Feraca of Kingston.

Special Needs Center Begins

NEW PALTZ

A Center for Children with Special Needs is being started at the Campus Learning Center of the State University College at New Paltz this fall. This center is a pilot project and will be in operation every Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to provide diagnostic and prescriptive services for a limited number of children of Ulster County who have learning disabilities.

Children will be referred by parents and will be accepted with the agreement that the center will work cooperatively with the child's school. It is our hope, a spokesman said, that in this initial year the clinic team will spend much time in conference with the involved personnel at the child's school to develop programs which will be most beneficial to the child, his parents, and teacher.

The clinic team will consist of Shirley Zeitlin, school psychologist; Mary Jane Jewett, reading specialist; Margaret Mabie, learning disabilities specialist; Fred Maulucci, speech pathologist; William Merriman, perceptual motor specialist; Rhoda Nemerofsky, nurse teacher; and Marian Kent, clinic coordinator.

The team will also use graduate students under supervision who are in advanced stages of their training programs. Approval of a fee structure is pending and service will be rendered but no fees collected until a policy decision is made. In the initial year of operation it is planned that there will be a fee of $25 (paid by the parent with no charge to the school) for the entire service regardless of the number of visits. A token fee of $1 will be charged to those in financial need.

Grand Jury Indicts Two In Fatal Liberty Blaze

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (UPI) — Grand jury indictments charging manslaughter and criminal negligence have been handed up in Sullivan County, naming a former building inspector in the village of Liberty and the owner of a building where 10 persons died in a fire last January.

The fire, Jan. 24, claimed the lives of seven children and three adults, all of whom were trapped in the top floor apartments of the three-story building, one of the oldest in Liberty, a Catskills resort community.

Charged in two indictments, containing ten counts against each man, were Max Vogel, who owned the structure and ran a clothing and used furniture business on its first two floors, and John Como, who Liberty building inspector. The two appeared before Judge Benjamin Newberg Thursday to enter innocent pleas. Bail for both men was set at $15,000.

The grand jury also returned a sealed report on the case. District Attorney Emanuel Gellman, who presented the case to the panel, said the indictments were handed up "because they failed to rectify hazardous conditions" in the building. He said Como, whose legal name is Giangiacomo, had failed his duty as building inspector to have the conditions rectified.

During a preliminary investigation of the blaze, Louis Scheinman, who was then district attorney, had said, "There are reasons to believe there may be zoning and housing code violations." He said the structure had "no fire escape and inadequate exits."

Authorities said Como was dismissed because he had failed to report a 1959 petit larceny arrest on his application for the job.

Killed in the fire were Mitchell Rivenburg, 5, whose 24-year-old mother, Angelea, was seriously injured; Roberto Toldeo, 10; Olga Ortiz, 8; her brother, Ricardo, 5; Julio Padilla, 2; Mary Sanchez, 48; her children, Angel, 11, and Laura, 7; Elizabeth Retorico, 37, and Chamo Curbello, 39.

Four others were hospitalized. At least one law suit has been filed in connection with the blaze. Immediately following the fire it was reported by authorities that 21 people, most of them welfare recipients, were on the top floor when flames broke out. With their only exit reportedly blocked by fire, men, women and children leaped from windows and lined up at the windows, screaming for help. Seven were rescued by firemen with ladders.

Many of the bodies were found in the front portion of the building near windows, leading authorities to suggest that they "got stacked up by the windows" in their dash for safety, but couldn't get out.

Firemen were hampered in their efforts to get ladders to the windows by overhead power lines which blocked their way.

Former Town Peace Justice

Tenaglia Gets Paltz College Post

NEW PALTZ — John B. Tenaglia, former justice of the peace in the town of New Paltz, has been appointed director of safety and space management at the State University College here.

A resident of New Paltz for 22 years, Tenaglia was appointed to his present position this past August after having served as associate dean of students for health and safety.

Tenaglia feels that he has a responsibility to make the New Paltz community aware of the needs of the people who live and work at the college, and that his background in community affairs can help him toward this goal.

Tenaglia's responsibilities include establishing fire drill procedures and health training programs, identifying for repair hazardous conditions that may exist on campus, inspecting the food services, and in general being responsible for all matters pertaining to health and safety on campus (with the exclusion of matters pertaining solely to the Health Center). He also acts as liaison between the college and the New Paltz fire department and the rescue squad.

In Tenaglia's words, this is a "very broad field, and we have a responsibility to educate our employees and the college community." He is planning a number of programs, along these lines.

Tenaglia is planning to distribute first aid kits around campus. He is also implementing the establishment of an American Red Cross sponsored "multi-media" first aid course to be offered to employees of the college. This is in addition to the first aid course already being offered to students.

Tenaglia is also starting a monthly campaign to deliver "safety messages" through the mail to the community. These messages will have to do with such topics as personal health and safety, and fire, motor vehicle and on-the-job safety.

As a further health measure, all employees of the college are being given the opportunity to have chest X-rays taken. This step is being taken with the cooperation of the college health center and the Ulster County Chest Clinic.

Tenaglia plans to have the central fire alarm system on campus rehabilitated. He describes this system as "sophisticated but inoperative." He explained that there is a panel in the Security Control Center in the Main Building which shows the location of every fire alarm on campus, and which is supposed to indicate which alarm has been pulled. This, in case of a real fire, would be vital information to have. Unfortunately, this system is presently out of order.

Tenaglia feels that safety should be a concern of all of the founders of the New Paltz community relations committee. He said that he wants to "stay ahead" of the inspectors who call him to let him know of hazards on campus. "I want to stop reacting," he said. "I want to initiate."

Tenaglia is a former president of the Paltz Club and the New Paltz Land Club, and he is one of the founders of the New Paltz college.

Oakland... Baseball's Greatest Dynasty?

OAKLAND (UPI) — Three in row is as good as you can get, perfect, in fact, and that's precisely the type ball Oakland's batting A's played in the World Series to lay the cornerstone for baseball's newest dynasty.

When the New York Yankees won four consecutive world titles from 1936 through 1939, everybody considered them the most powerful baseball dynasty in history, and it was up to that point.

Then, a later generation of Yankees stamped out five world titles in a row from 1949 through 1953 in almost assembly line fashion.

Now, along come the A's, a team of outspoken players who battle among themselves in the clubhouse and publicly criticize their owner and manager, to challenge that record, and there are those who think they can equal, if not break it.

Thursday, as they had in the four previous games, the A's played baseball the way it should be, making all the plays perfectly and professionally to beat the proud Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 and win the 1974 World Series in five games.

Centerfielder Bill North did make one error in the eighth inning but the A's turned it into a plus—one which finished the Dodgers.

"This was the sweetest one of all," said team star Reggie Jackson, "because we did it in five. Last year and the year before, it took us seven games to beat the Reds and Mets. Maybe now people will give us credit for being a great team, because we are."

There aren't many who will challenge that statement and certainly not the Dodgers, who made costly mistakes on the field and did most of the talking off it.

"If they are smart," said Joe Rudi, whose seventh inning homer off Mike Marshall won Thursday's game, "they will learn something from this. Sure, we fight a lot among ourselves, but we leave all that stuff in the clubhouse where it belongs. On the field, we play baseball."

"I think we learned a lot watching them," said Dodger Manager Walter Alston. "There's a certain part of the game you can't get from talking. There are a few things you have to get on the playing field that nothing but experience will give you. The A's showed us that."

Bill Buckner, who turned out to be the goat in the final game when he was cut down trying to make an extra base in the eighth inning, was the man who did most of the talking for the Dodgers when he said if they played Oakland 162 times his team would win 100.

"If you are going to talk like that," said A's shortstop Bert Campaneris, "you better win."

The A's used brilliant pitching and defense to throttle the Dodgers. Thursday's wrapup game was a perfect example.

Sal Bando hit a sacrifice fly for the A's first run, generated by North's speed and a throwing error by catcher Steve Yeager, and Ray Fosse and Rudi, not noted for their power, hit homers.

Vida Blue, who went 7 2-3 innings, John Odom and Rollie Fingers took care of the pitching and Jackson, Dick Green and Bando made the big defensive play that cut down Buckner and eventually the Dodgers.

"It's not that difficult managing a team like this," said Alvin Dark, who as of the moment doesn't know if he will be back next year. "I've said it 100 times before and I say it again, managers don't win baseball games, they only lose them. These fellows played perfect baseball in this Series and that's why they are champions."

Fingers picked up his second save of this Series in Thursday's night's clincher. He threatened to walk off the field when Buckner was nearly stand there and wait. I doubt that the wait had anything to do with what happened.

"I was hit in the back of the head by an apple earlier," he next. "And Yeager said Marshall, 'I can't say much for shall throw a good pitch, a low those fans. They can't be real inside fast ball."

That won Fingers, the mustachioed reliever, the Series MVP award made by a national magazine, but there were a lot of people who thought the award should have gone to Green. Among them were most of the A's.

Green set Series fielding records by participating in six doubleplays in five games and three in one. But it was his relay in the eighth inning Thursday that was the biggest play of all.

Rudi's homer came in the seventh and gave the A's a 3-2 edge. Buckner led off the eighth with a single and when North let it get away from him for an error, Buckner tried to go all the way to third. But Jackson, backing up on the play in right center, threw a chest-high strike to Green, who fired a bullet to Bando at third to cut down Buckner and finish off the Dodgers.

Alston defended the gamble by Buckner. "It would have been a great play if he made it," said Alston, "and I'm not going to second guess him for trying."

The Buckner gamble was a perfect illustration of how the Series went. Every time the Dodgers tried for something extra, it cost them. When the A's did, they made it pay off.

The difference was in experience and the A's had it all over the Dodgers there, too. With a club still relatively young, the A's could go on to greater glory and Jackson is one who thinks they can become the greatest ever.

"The way we approach this game, both on the field and off it," he said, "we have a great opportunity to be the best ever. I said before the Series started that if we won three in a row, we could make it four, five and even six straight."

He could be right.

A's Considered LA 'Nervous'

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's, celebrating another baseball world championship today, beat a Los Angeles Dodgers club they considered "tense and nervous."

The A's remember the feeling well. "In 1971, we made the playoffs for the first time and Baltimore beat us in three straight. Since then, we've played up to our ability," team captain Sal Bando said after Thursday night's 3-2 victory which ended the World Series.

The three-time world champions needed only five games to finish off the Dodgers, although they batted a meager 211 as a team and won three of their games by 3-2 scores. The A's have taken nine one-run decisions in three World Series.

Los Angeles was the pre-Series favorite and when the Dodgers fell behind 2-1 after the third game, outfielder Bill Buckner said of the A's: "I think if we played them 162 times in a season, we'd win 100 times."

The newspaper quote, read in the A's clubhouse Wednesday night by owner Charles O. Finley, had its stinging effect but was nothing new.

"No one has been impressed by us," said Joe Rudi, whose seventh-inning homer off Los Angeles relief ace Mike Marshall provided the run that won the fifth game and the Series.

Reggie Jackson called the National League champion Dodgers "a good club, but I don't think they played up to their capabilities. They seemed tense and nervous."

At times — mostly the wrong times — the Dodgers were daring. The quotable Buckner singled to lead off the eighth inning Thursday night and tried to reach third when the ball squirted past center fielder Bill North. He was out when Jackson, backing up North, fired the ball to second baseman Dick Green, who made a perfect relay throw to Bando.

"It wasn't a lucky play," said shortstop Bert Campaneris. "Reggie and Greenie were both in the right position and made great throws. That's why we're champions."

Reliever Rollie Fingers, with the help of the play, went on to shut out the Dodgers over the final two innings, the crowning touch that earned him the World Series' Most Valuable Player award.

Fingers was the Series' pitching star, Rudi and Campaneris led the A's batsmen with six hits apiece and Green stole the show in the field.

The 33-year-old second baseman, who probably will announce his retirement from baseball a third time this winter and then run up Finley's long-distance phone bill as he ponders a return, participated in a record six double plays against the Dodgers. At bat, he was 0-for-13.

"I'm just a fringe ballplayer on a great team," said Green, who soon will be collecting a $26,000 World Series check.

A Villainous Hero

OAKLAND (AP) — If you were casting a 1930s movie serial, Rollie Fingers and his carefully cultivated handlebar moustache would be perfect for the villain.

And if you were casting a World Series for the Oakland A's, the man you would want warming up in the bullpen is Fingers, who has a way of showing up on the mound when the A's are about to win World championships.

The sinister looking right hander earned an automobile as Most Valuable Player in the World Series, winning one game, saving two others, and appearing in all four Oakland victories over Los Angeles. It is no coincidence that the only game Fingers didn't pitch in was the one the Dodgers won.

The world championship was the third straight for the A's. They won in seven games in 1972, seven in 1973 and five in 1974. That's 19 baseball games. In 16 of them, Fingers has come out of the bullpen.

There is just so much rubber in any pitcher's arm and Fingers admitted that the constant work was beginning to take its toll as he worked against the Dodgers in the final two innings of Thursday night's championship-clinching game.

"I was getting tired," he said. "The back of my arm hurt so I couldn't get a breaking ball over. I only could get my fast ball over."

In the eighth inning, Fingers tried a breaking ball on Dodgers' slugger Joe Ferguson, who sent the ball soaring towards the left field seats — but well foul. "He hit the pitch nine million miles," said Fingers. "I threw it away after that."

Before the game, A's pitching coach Wes Stock sidled up to Fingers and asked how his arm felt after two straight days of work. "I told him I had a few innings in it," said the reliever.

That was all Stock and Manager Alvin Dark needed to hear. With the score tied at 2-2 and the game moving into the late innings, Stock told Fingers to get ready. "He told me that I'd be pitching if we scored one run," said Fingers.

Sure enough, the A's got that run on a first-pitch homer by Joe Rudi against Dodgers' bullpen ace Mike Marshall in the bottom of the seventh. That was the signal for Fingers to start warming up.

After Ferguson's foul drive in the eighth, Fingers sailed into the ninth, needing only three more outs to nail down the World championship. He got them in a hurry.

Ron Cey flied deep to Reggie Jackson in right field. Then pinch-hitter Willie Crawford popped up. That brought up Von Joshua, the Dodgers' last hope.

Jazz Flat

NEW YORK (AP) — There won't be any Mardi Gras type celebrations for the New Orleans Jazz yet.

The Jazz' debut in the National Basketball Association was not a rousing success. In fact, it was a dismal and disappointing 89-74 loss to the New York Knicks Thursday night when the NBA began its 29th season.

But, coaches Red Holzman of New York and Scotty Robertson of New Orleans agreed that the Jazz will soon be marching to a different tune.

"I think they will be a good ball club," offered Holzman. "They will be better when they get everybody back," he added, referring to absentees Neal Walk, John Block, Rick Robertson and Mel Counts, all sidelined with injuries.

"It's awful tough to compete when you're missing guys like that," the Knicks' coach continued. "But they have good guards, like (Pete) Maravich, (Stu) Lantz and (Jim) Barnett. They're not going to be your usual expansion team."

"I think we have a bright future," said Robertson, who took the job with the Jazz after a successful career at Louisiana Tech. "We're better than a normal expansion club, but we haven't been able to gain any cohesiveness yet because of all the injuries we've had."

"Naturally, I'm disappointed that we lost. But we're going to improve."

Capitals Capture First NHL Victory

By The Associated Press

The Washington Capitals won the National Hockey League's expansion derby Thursday night by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks 4-3 on Jack Egers' goal at 8:46 of the third period.

The Capitals, playing before a home crowd of 9,471 at the Capital Centre in Landover, Md., thus became the first of the two NHL expansion clubs to win a game this season.

The other new entry, Kansas City Scouts, have an 0-3 record while Washington is now 1-2-1.

Capitals Coach Jimmy Anderson called the victory "a reward for hard work," thought of a lasting benefit: "Now they know they can do it, so if the guys don't win more, I'll be able to kick their butts."

Dennis Dupere scored twice to help Washington to a 3-2 lead, but the Black Hawks tied the score at 14:41 of the second period on a power play goal by Dennis Hull

They're Underdogs, But Expert Likes Pats, Cowboys

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Believe it or not, it's actually much harder to come up with something clever, witty or profound to say than trying to guess whether New England will continue its unbeaten streak or if Dallas will stop its losing streak, as must be done this week.

The Patriots' Chuck Fairbanks and the Cowboys' Tom Landry may not give a hoot, but if they are like most football coaches, they'd actually prefer that the oddsmakers and the prognosticators make them underdogs. Most coaches say it makes their job easier — or at least the psychological part of it.

Anyway, having gotten past the introduction for another week, let's pause to report that last week's guesses produced a 10-3 record for an over-all showing of 44-20-1 for .688. We should be so lucky this time around.

Pats 24, Bills 21

New England (5-0) at Buffalo (4-1): The Patriots are underdogs again, just as in four of their five previous games. But there's nothing like sticking with a winner, particularly after comparing how each team played the Colts.

Cowboys 14, Eagles 13
Philadelphia (4-1) at Dallas (1-4): A month ago, the Eagles beat the Cowboys 13-10 on a late field goal by Tom Dempsey. Since then the Eagles have won three more times and the Cowboys have lost just as many more times. In this case, however, let's stick with a loser — the Eagles, who haven't won in Big D since 1965.

Raiders 21, Bengals 17
Cincinnati (4-1) at Oakland

(4-1): The Raiders have never lost to Cincinnati at home. With Ken Stabler throwing the ball and the Oakland defense doing its usual thing, there's no reason to suspect anything different will happen this time.

Vikings 31, Lions 7
Detroit (1-4) at Minnesota (5-0): The Lions finally won one last Monday night, but weren't that impressive. So this is no time to call for an upset.

Cards 30, Oilers 6
St. Louis (5-0) at Houston (1-4): The biggest problem St. Louis Coach Don Coryell has is keeping his players from looking ahead to next week and the rematch with Washington.

Steelers 41, Browns 29
Cleveland (1-4) at Pittsburgh (3-1-1): The Steelers have sacked enemy quarterbacks an average of three times a game so far. So the guy that will be on his backside in Three Rivers Stadium on Sunday is likely to be Cleveland quarterback Mike Philpotts.

Dolphins 21, Chiefs 13
Kansas City (2-3) at Miami (3-2): The Miami Dolphins were mulling to themselves after losing to the Redskins last Sunday.

Redskins 24, Giants 14
New York Giants (1-4) at Washington (3-2): The Redskins' rhythm to date has been win, lose, win, lose, win. That doesn't mean a loss this time.

Rams 24, 49ers 10
San Francisco (2-3) at Los Angeles (3-2): The Rams are having problems, but the 49ers aren't one of them.

Jets 24, Colts 7
Baltimore (0-5) at New York

Broncos 21, Chargers 13
San Diego (1-4) at Denver (2-2-1): Whether it's Steve Ramsey or Charley Johnson doing the quarterbacking, count on Denver to throw and throw and throw.

Bears 17, Packers 13
Green Bay (3-2) at Chicago (2-3): Chicago has come so close so often this season, that this Monday night game may be time to say Bears win.

Hoople Picks Wallkill, Ellies

(Editor's Note — Each week following a Saturday of high school football games, our ace (2) scholastic prognosticator Major Amos B. Hoople sashays into our office to gloat about his usually excellent selections. Last week The Major didn't show, probably because he hit only two of the six games played (one was postponed). The wind having been taken out of Hoople's sails, he very quietly left this week's picks at the sports desk and silently crawled out a side door. It marks his first public comment on last week's disaster. Read on).

HOOPLE MANOR

Egad, friends, this Saturday the spotlight will shine more brightly than ever on the glittering collection of high school gridiron contests. Highlighting the schedule will be the New Paltz Hugueno's appearance in Highland country and Wallkill's Prowling Panthers visiting Rondout Flying Ganders.

Similarly, another big week of college contests is in store. As for last week, we made some minor miscalculations dropping the season's record to 17-10, or 62.5. Ah, but that's history. Now let's go on to this week's forecast.

KETCHAM 14, KINGSTON 7

Too many Kingston injuries combined with too much Ketcham anger over last week's loss to Saugerties. Kingston must wait one more week before it wins one.

HIGHLAND 15, NEW PALTZ 12

A wire-to-wire game rivaling last week's New Paltz Red Hook 11-0 thriller. The Big Blue trounced three weak opponents to get ready for this one and they'll win, but not without some trouble, chuckle-chuckle.

JOHN JAY 14, SAUGERTIES 0

Even a defense as good as is Saugerties' won't stop Jay's overpowering running game. The Sawyers' meanwhile, just can't score points with any regularity.

RED HOOK 24, LIBERTY 14

This figures to be a free-wheeling offensive show, but Red Hook's defense is just a trifle better than Liberty's and that should spell the difference between the two clubs.

PINE BUSH 21, MARLBORO 0

Marlboro can't possibly be in the right frame of mind to play winning football after the last couple of week's events, on and off the field. Perhaps the Dukes will be particularly inspired, but unfortunately, they just don't have the material.

WALLKILL 14, RONDOUT 6

Defending UCAI champion Wallkill has gotten itself together. The Panthers can move the football against any team and RVC will be rusty following an unusual one-week layoff.

ELLENVILLE 7, ONTEORA 6

The game of the year for these two teams. Braggings rights to the lower echelons are at stake and from what we hear from Boiceville, the Indians just don't seem to have much fight left.

And in the college ranks, we are prepared to give you it — un-kumpli! — upset of the year.

Alabama 28, Can't be, you say?

Well, dear readers, shocking as that may be, that's what's in the cards and it's a shame indeed that previous commitments preclude my being in venerable Neyland Stadium to see the Volunteers startle Bear Bryant's Boys. That's one I'd — hak-kaff — pay to see!

(Ed. Note: And that would be a first for the Old Boy!)

For the doubters among you, let me modestly remind you it was the Hoople Forecast which gave you Wisconsin to jolt Nebraska and Missouri to shock Arizona State — har-rumph!

In other games we'll be: Air Force 21, Navy 7; Brown 15, Dartmouth 13; Florida 17, Florida State 14; Harvard 32, Cornell 14; Nebraska 37, Kansas 21; Penn 24, Lafayette 6; Purdue 36, Northwestern 10; Notre Dame 49, Army 14 (Army always scores 14, heh-heh); Ohio State 47, Indiana 6; USC 38, Oregon 7; Penn State 44, Syracuse 21; Pitt 35, Boston College 13; Princeton 20, Colgate 0; Texas 27, Arkansas 21; and Yale 28, Columbia 12. boola-boola!

MICHAEL BOND—of Saugerties, a defensive back, is a member of the undefeated Ithaca College varsity football team. Voted "Hustler of the Week" after the St. Lawrence game, he is a '72 graduate of Saugerties High School. Bond is the son of Mrs. Pearl Bond of 11 Spalding Lane, Saugerties.

Uhl's Team 'B' Winners

KINGSTON

Uhl's Construction scored its first YMCA B Division Fall Basketball win of the season when it beat winless Artie's, 82-60.

George Barnes paced Uhl's with 24 points and Chris Zell tossed in 22.

Barry Motzkin had 20 points for Artie's.

In another game, the Barrister's forfeited to unbeaten Downs St. Driving School.

The box:

Uhl's (82) — G. Barnes, 24; Scarey, 12; Cook, 4; Madison, 6; J. Barnes, 10; Norton, 4; Zell, 22.

Artie's (60) — Cloutier, 2; Murdock, 8; Motzkin, 20; Galm, 6; Gardecki, 12; Watska, 12.

Schick's 720 No. 1 Triple

KINGSTON

Chris Schick, a young south-paw bowler who has already had his share of big scores, cut loose in the International League with a whopping 720 series to leap into first place on the area's Top Ten list by a 39-pin margin.

Schick strung together 242, 254 and finished with 227 to lead his Greco Brothers team to new league and area highs. He vaulted past Frank Rittve's 681 to stake a strong claim to the No. 1 position.

Plenty of help from Art Schmall, Nick Nagele, Joe Mannello Jr. and Steve Ferraro enabled Greco Brothers to establish its new standards. The team combined to hit the top area scratch single in game two with a 1044, and the closest mark to that is the 1089 they totalled in the final game.

Greco Brothers decked a 3040 for the night's work, also the tops around.

Schmall's contribution was a 515, and Nagele added a 551.

Mannello rolled a pair of 232's to crash a 645 set, while anchorman Ferraro had 224-606.

Other top International performances came from Jim Peterson who hit 238-635, the third best individual total of the night. Rich Dulin had 626, Ed Pelham had 622, Bud Lowe had 615 and Dave Lowe downed 613.

Also: Bill Noreika, 237-607; Angie Fondino, 603; and Bill Hart Jr., 606.

The Frontier League also had some excitement as Colao Brothers, led by Roger Murray's 582, racked up an all-time league high scratch total of 2795.

Russ Jacobs hit 871, Charlie Koemm decked 587, Jim Scott had 547 and Charlie Colao added 517 to accomplish the feat. The group put together games of 960, 885 and 932. This team also holds the all time Frontier singles mark with a 1043 set last year.

Terry Hay paced the individuals with a 226-596, Lottie Cashara had a 580, and Paul Richards hit 574.

CATHOLIC AA—Vincent La Rocca 566, Thomas Yonta 564, Robert Henry 555, John Sweeney 215-549, Henry Diamond 541, Jerry Bruck 541, team highs: St. Coleman: 885-2078.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN — Butch Landi 568, Paul Saulpaugh 556, John Williams 549, Ed Eble 541, Pete Karmey 545-528, team highs: Five Aces 546-5478.

INTERCHANGEABLES — Dot Davis 233-521, Charlotte Rowles 481, Sharon Shuler 471, Gloria Dyon 468, Faith Marley 468, team highs: 468-468, 468-468, Happy Hookers 2138.

MONDAY MATINEE — Mills Friedman 610, June Van Kleeck 186-496, Edith Lawrence 484, Dorsey London 480, Arlene Neporent 447, Sally Beach 447, team highs: London's 708, Federal Venetian Blinds 1966.

BOWLERAMA QUADS — Kathy Spadafora 210-556, Joan Jameson 212-549, Gloria Nagele 534, Gloria Daley 526, Karen Woodvine 525, Sue Balash 518, Barbara Van Keuren 512, Rose Schatzel 511, Perla Bol- la 509, Dot Atwood 508, team highs: Yonta's Construction 706, Jameson-Moore Inc. 2067.

MONDAY MIXED — Bill Van Gaasbeck 640, Bruce Ormandy 574, Dunne Russ 237-579, Herb Boutman 560, Women — Jean Haun 506, Sara Miller 187-490, Rose Praetorius 490, Ann Glanville 479, team highs: Klunker Toyota 592, Maine's Oilers 2689.

LIVE WIRES — Mary Bartz 506, Marilyn Lowe 459, Linda Fabbie 465, Helen Baker 447, Marquerite Stoddard 441, team highs: Rick's Antique Cars 740-2140.

Red Hook Scores, 26-6, In Saugerties Football

SAUGERTIES Rifenberg from 27 yards out accounted for the other Raider TD.

Defending champion Red Hook Raiders evened their Saugerties Touch Football A Division record at 2-2 with a 26-6 victory over the Mountain Boys.

In other games, Holy Cross stomped Alpha Cement, 26-6, in the B Division, and Mt. Marion A.C. whipped the Gunjah Warriors, 18-12, in the C Division.

Ken Fralleghe scored on a five-yard run, a 17-yard run with an intercepted pass, and tossed a 25 yard touchdown to George Greene to pace Red Hook. Gary O'Connor's pass to Manny downs.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

A recent report to Congress revealed that government research on weather modification may make it possible to "alleviate drought, curb hurricanes, suppress lightning and damaging hail and dissipate fog." The World Almanac says. The report stated that funds for weather modification have increased from some $3 million in fiscal year 1959 to about $17 million in fiscal year 1974.

All-Out Conservation Can Beat Energy Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rate of U.S. energy consumption in half, from the historic 4 per cent to about 2 per cent a year.

This could be done by more efficient use of energy, it said. Even at the lower growth rate, U.S. energy supply in 1985 would have to increase 28 per cent above last year's level, the report said.

But it added that low growth "will make unnecessary additional developments which threaten serious environmental damage or increased oil imports which pose foreign policy concerns."

The report said energy cuts need not lead to economic stagnation. It claimed the nation could even adopt a policy of zero energy growth beyond 1985 without harming standards of living.

"We can level off energy consumption and continue with an economy in which consumer well-being continues to improve," it said.

A major government study of energy policy is due for delivery in early November. But federal agencies already are deep in preparations to lease areas off the Atlantic, Pacific and Alaskan coasts for petroleum drilling, to strip-mine coal and oil shale in the West, and to speed development and construction of atomic power plants.

The report described these energy sources as "troublesome," charging they present serious environmental and safety problems.

It said the nation could meet its needs without them, partly by developing present energy sources and partly through conservation.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Surgeons have removed Margaretta "Happy" Rockefeller's cancerous left breast and rated her chances for survival as excellent. The wife of vice president designate Nelson Rockefeller had found the malignancy by herself two weeks ago.

Doctors operated on her for four-and-a-half hours at Sloan-Kettering Institute Thursday, performing what was described as a "modified radical mastectomy."

The attending surgeon, Dr. Jerome A. Urban, told a news conference that Mrs. Rockefeller's "chances are excellent for a full recovery — over 90 per cent in 10 years."

He added: "The cancer had not spread to the lymph nodes. I feel I got all of it, I really do."

Urban described the 48-year-old Mrs. Rockefeller as "a sturdy, wonderful woman." He said there appeared to be no complications and said she was in excellent condition.

The former New York governor looked tired and depressed as he told reporters earlier in the day.

"Gentlemen, you're not going to believe what I have to tell you. Happy has just had a radical mastectomy of the left breast."

Rockefeller declined to speculate on how the surgery would affect his political future, telling a questioner: "I think at this time, perhaps all of us should think about Happy's future, which is the one concern I have."

Urban said a biopsy performed Thursday morning revealed a carcinoma less than two centimeters in diameter and two smaller nodules that were found to be cancerous.

He and two other surgeons, Drs. Edward J. Beattie Jr. and Roy Ashikari, then performed the mastectomy.

Urban said he informed Mrs. Rockefeller after the surgery was complete that the cancer had not spread. He said she replied: "Oh, thank goodness."

Asked whether he felt a full mastectomy was necessary, Urban said he believed it was and he would continue to perform such operations "until we get more information on this subject."

Urban said Mrs. Rockefeller discovered suspicious lumps in her breast by self examination and X-rays were taken last Friday by her gynecologist, Dr. Arthur V. Greeley.

She entered the hospital Wednesday. Mrs. Rockefeller's surgery came less than a week after President Ford's wife Betty left a hospital following a similar operation for removal of the right breast.

The first lady issued a statement at the White House Thursday saying she was "deeply distressed" when she received the news of Mrs. Rockefeller's operation.

"I'm sure that the love of her family, the prayers of the entire nation and her inner strength will be of great sustenance during this time."

Mrs. Ford said: "I only wish I could be by her side to give her the strength so very many have given to me."

When President Ford learned of the news, he referred to his wife's recent surgery, and said: "The coincidence is almost unbelievable."

Ronan to Do Some Explaining

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Matthew F. Feldman says there will be a vote Monday in the upper house on a resolution calling for an investigation of Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller's $550,000 gift to Dr. William J. Ronan.

Feldman (D-Bergen), said Thursday he would "have some things to say" about the Ronan matter when the resolution comes before the Senate.

The proposal for a legislative investigation of the Rockefeller to Ronan gift passed the Assembly last Monday. Feldman made his comments after a meeting of the legislative leadership and Gov. Brendan T. Byrne. Feldman said he would "have some things to say" about the Ronan matter.

Ronan is chairman of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and received $550,000 from Rockefeller in the form of debt forgiveness when he left office as executive director of the New York Metropolitan Transit Authority.

Sponsors of the resolution in the Assembly said the Rockefeller gift brings into question Ronan's ability to be impartial in matters before the bistate port authority.

Last week Byrne said he reserved the right to examine the Ronan matter more closely in the event of further disclosures.

The Assembly resolution calls upon Gov. Brendan T. Byrne to veto Port Authority Commission minutes until Ronan makes a full and satisfactory financial disclosure.

The port authority has a board of 12 commissioners, six each from New York and New Jersey. The governor of either state can block the commissioners' decisions by vetoing the minutes of their meetings.

Ronan said this week that if the New Jersey legislature authorizes an investigation of his gifts from Rockefeller then other authority, members, including New Jersey Commissioner of Transportation Alan Sagner, should be required to testify.

Byrne appointed Sagner to the Port Authority Commission. Sagner is a millionaire who made $80,000 in loans and contributions to the governor's 1973 campaign.

Ronan questioned Sagner's handling of the contributions. Sagner said he had already Jacob Javits of New York and Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, who had visited Cuba.

Four Released From Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — Four young ing illicit drug activity, federal Americans released from narcotics agents said.

Cuban prisons arrived in Miami Thursday. Two were arrested because of their involvement in the narcotics investigation and the others subpoenaed to testify in a narcotics investigation.

FBI agents arrested Phillip father. They to restrain him by pushing him up against a wall away from small plane in Miami four his son.

Almost in tears after being restrained, he continued to moan. "After four years in hell and you're making me go through this."

Announcement of the four prisoners' release came last week from Cuban leader Fidel Castro, who said it was a goodwill gesture towards Sens. Jacob Javits of New York and Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, who had visited Cuba.

The younger Johnson, wearing David Bruce Nirenberg, 22, of Pennsylvania, and Susan Lane Brown, 29, of South Royaltan, were released after being greeted by a tearful embrace served subpoenas to appear from his mother.

But the elder Johnson started shouting at the FBI agents. "No, no, no, you can't take the grand jury is investigat-

Belfast Riots Continue

BELFAST (UPI) — Snipers opened fire on British troops and two workmen in a Roman Catholic area of Belfast today and rioters set fire to buses and cars in the third day of "bitter" protest against the mass jailing of suspected extremists.

Police said gunmen in a moving car shot and wounded two Roman Catholic men on their way to work in the Lower Falls area of the city.

The spokesman said Army squads arrested 170 persons in the rioting in West Belfast in the last 24 hours.

Seven buses parked in a bus station at Ballymore, 45 miles northwest of Belfast, were set afire during the night.

Barricades were still up in Strabane, south of Londonderry, but the Army said the situation was now quiet.

During the night snipers fired on British troops in Belfast. Burning vehicles blocked streets in Catholic districts.

The British government vowed to keep holding suspected Protestant militants and Catholic Irish Republican Army members without trial, despite jail riots and street disorders sparked by the Maze prison uprising Tuesday.

Britain rushed 600 fresh troops into Ulster Thursday to reinforce 15,000 already in the strife-torn province and soldiers in riot gear fought running battles with stone-throwing mobs in several areas of the capital.

Flaming buses and autos blocked streets overnight and columns of smoke rose in the Catholic Andersonstown, Lower Falls Road, New Lodge, Ardoyne and Ligoniel districts.

A civilian was wounded in a cross-fire between snipers and British troops at an observation post on Ormeau Road Thursday night and was taken to a hospital, the army said.

The army said other areas of Northern Ireland where violence erupted Wednesday — Londonderry, Strabane, Dunganon and Newry — were quiet.

Police and army officials said the widespread prison and street rioting appeared to be part of a concentrated attempt to end the British policy of internment — jailing of suspected extremists without trial.

Inmates at the Maze prison, six miles south of Belfast, rioted Tuesday night, burning quonset huts to the ground. The camp, also called Long Kesh, holds 1,400 prisoners — about 800 of them are Catholics.

The riot touched off uprisings at the Crumlin Road jail in Belfast, the Magilligan Prison near Londonderry and the Armagh Prison for Women, where inmates took the warden and three women guards hostage for 14 hours.

Urban said he informed Mrs. Rockefeller after the surgery was complete that the cancer had not spread. He said she replied: "Oh, thank goodness."

Asked whether he felt a full mastectomy was necessary, Urban said he believed it was and he would continue to perform such operations "until we get more information on this subject."

Urban said Mrs. Rockefeller discovered suspicious lumps in her breast by self examination and X-rays were taken last Friday by her gynecologist, Dr. Arthur V. Greeley.
